CONFERENCE BY SCOTT AND OBREGON FAILED

While The, Scott-Obregon Conference Failed (There Was Good Feeling On Both Sides and It Is Not Thought There Is Danger of A Break. Secretary of War Baker Announces There Will Be No Change In The United States Mexican Policy. Suggested That Carranza Was Not Willing To Make Written Agreement For Political Reasons. The Conferees Have Left For Their Respective Headquarters. Mobilization of Texas Militia At San Antonio Completed.

Washington, May 12.—General Scott's report of the failure of the Obregon conference was considered at today's cabinet meeting. The contents were not disclosed, but there are some indications that the conference resulted in an unwritten agreement to cover a co-operative action along the border for the present. Secretary of War Baker said today the conferees tried to reach a base for a written understanding, but this was found impossible, although all their exchanges were most friendly. It is suggested here that Carranza is faced by a political situation in Mexico and was unwilling to make a written agreement which his opponents could use as an indication of surrender by him of Mexican sovereignty. After the cabinet meeting Secretary of War Baker said the American policy would remain unchanged, and that no general intervention in Mexico is in contemplation at present.

Conference Failed.
[By Associated Press.]
El Paso, Texas, May 12.—Acting no longer as diplomatic agents, General Scott expects to leave today for Washington and General Funston for San Antonio, following the failure of the conferences with General Obregon last night. Despite the break, relations here and at Juarez say the relations are not unduly strained. The question of disposition of General Pershing's forces will be discussed now by Secretary of State Lansing and Mexican Ambassador Arredondo. General Funston will take immediate command of the disposition of the militia now mobilized.

Conferees Leave.
[By Associated Press.]
El Paso, Texas, May 12.—General Obregon started south before day-break. Generals Funston and Scott will leave at 10 tonight.

Mobilization Complete.
[By Associated Press.]
San Antonio, Texas, May 12.—Mobilization of the Texas militia was practically completed today. The next step will be to muster them into the regular army. They are to be given a thorough course in training and better equipment. The officials believe it will be three weeks before the first militia will go to the border.

Another Bandit Raid.
[By Associated Press.]
Tucson, Ariz., May 12.—Mexican bandits, it is reported, raided Polaris mining camp on the border near Nogales yesterday, driving out the Americans who escaped to Nogales. Troops were sent there today.

Negotiations in Status Quo.
[By Associated Press.]
Washington, May 12.—Ambassador Arredondo stated this afternoon diplomatic negotiations with Secretary Lansing would not be resumed until he received instructions from Carranza. He believes Scott and Obregon are in accord on several important subjects.

Bandits Surrendered.
[By Associated Press.]
Brownsville, Texas, May 12.—It is reported here three Mexicans who killed Curtin Bayes last night near Mercedes, surrendered this morning after one was killed. The other two were captured and taken to military headquarters. The Progresso bandits apparently have attempted to return to Mexico.

SCANDALS IN THE CHURCH.

This Subject Was Aply Handled in Catholic Mission.

The attendance at the mission last night was the largest this week, in fact, every seat in the church was occupied. The lecture, "Scandals in the Church," by Father Ross, was so ably explained by the noble priest that those attention was given him during the entire lecture. Father Ross referred to anti-Catholic papers, especially the Menace, which so bitterly oppose the Catholic faith as hunting up these scandals for publication merely for their own financial greed. He admitted that scandals occurred in the church and that Jesus in his parables compared his church like to the net that was thrown into the sea and brought forth good and bad fishes, and that there were scandals in the first ages and they have continued until the present day. Father Ross continued by saying that not one-twelfth of the bishops and priests of the present day have betrayed the trust imposed upon them and he finished by asking the congregation to look over the situation themselves and see if the Catholic Church isn't doing noble work in this world for mankind.

READY FOR TRACK MEET AT A. & M.

Track in First Class Shape and Many Fast Records Are Expected.

The fastest track in the Southwest will be ready for the athletes at A. & M. Saturday. Manager Graves has had a force of men working all week and unless it rains the track will be in tip top shape. In the 100 and 220 it is thought that Mitchell of A. and M. can equal or better his time of last Saturday. Lively of Oklahoma, Frame and Fears of Texas will complete the fast quartet in the dashes.

The outcome of the meet hinges on the ability of Boyd and McCain of Oklahoma to place in the hurdles. Texas University monopolized these events at Houston in the T. I. A. A. The meet will start promptly at 3 and be finished at 5. Admission is 50 cents. Free list is suspended. This will be the fastest meet to be held locally until the next conference meet, probably four or five years hence.

The contract for paving four and one-half miles has been let and when the work is started it will be rushed to completion. The first to be paved will be Anderson Street and work will begin on the west end of same and come towards the new federal building.
